

THE WEEK

Hotel of the week

The Ramble

Versailles meets Colorado.

Denver

The Ramble “isn’t just another boutique hotel,” said Mark Ellwood in CNTraveler.com. The first lodging place to open in the artsy district known as River North, or RiNo, the 50-room property “will change the way you think about a weekend in Denver.” Restaurant and bar operations are being handled by Death & Co., a New York City spot that’s been piling up “world’s best bar” honors for a decade. The entire hotel is stylishly retro; “think 17th-century France goes Wild West.” Still, you won’t be blamed if you never get past the craft cocktails served in the soaring lobby.

theramblehotel.com; doubles from $241