WHEN RYAN DIGGINS, FOUNDER OF THE RAMBLE HOTEL, FIRST DREAMED UP RINO'S HIGHLY ANTICIPATED FIRST HOTEL, LODGING ACTUALLY CAME SECOND TO HIS PASSION FOR CONNECTION AND SERVICE.

"I wasn't actually focused on building a hotel; instead, I wanted to create a dynamic community gathering space complemented by a level of all-day hospitality that wasn't prevalent in Denver at the time," says Diggins.

It's safe to say he succeeded. The Ramble takes its inspiration from the French Salons of the 17th century, where community was forged over discussion and sometimes... um, lively (read: rowdy) debate. Situated in the RiNo Arts District, the hotel is designed to be the perfect place to gather and relive a show, gallery, or meal you've enjoyed about town — or perhaps within the hotel itself. Death & Co, an award-winning destination in the craft cocktail scene, has partnered with The Ramble to provide drinks, bites and hospitality throughout, marking their first venture from their East Village flagship in New York. The Ramble is also home to Vauxhall, an independent music theater and venue, and Super Mega Bien, a pan-Latin restaurant led by James Beard-nominated Chef Dana Rodriguez.

Though wholly outfitted with everything you could possibly need, the staff at The Ramble would be the first to encourage you to experience all that RiNo has to offer. Don't miss First Fridays: on the first Friday of every month, neighborhood businesses (including galleries) play host to events like exhibit openings and live music. Up the ante and take advantage of the complimentary eTuk circulator from Drink RiNo, running 5 p.m. - 12 a.m. every First Friday. Hop on and off at multiple locations throughout the district, visiting studios, breweries, shops and eateries along the way. Afterward, head back to The Ramble — whether to crash in one of their plush, stylish rooms, grab a chair and plan tomorrow's gallery visit, or simply grab one last mind-blowing drink from the Death & Co bar. CONTINUED >
